

The 5th Annual Steve Kanaly Invitational Celebrity Ski Classic

Over sixty-three celebrities were involved in the 5th Annual Steve Kanaly Invitational Celebrity Ski Classic that took place at Mountain High on February 7th, 1988. Steve Kanaly was best known for his role as Ray Krebbs, foreman of the Southfork Ranch on the television soap opera Dallas, from 1979 to 1989. The event benefitted the March of Dimes and featured a dual slalom race that involved 30 teams that was headed by a celebrity team captain. A Young Brad Pitt also attended the event.
